WINE PHILOSOPHY

LIVING WITH WINE FROM 1904

I know we can do even better. I'm sure of it...

A winemaker lives with vines. We have been living with ours for 4 generations. Understanding the importance of protecting, preserving and enchanting the quality of the fruit from our vineyards has become part of the family heritage. At the same time, we strive for innovation, generation after generation, with the same goal – creating the finest quality wine.

Therefore, the pillars of our wine philosophy are:

- ... Preserving the varietal expression of grapes in wines
- ... Excellence in our day-to-day work
- ... Respecting resources and nature
- ... Remaining true to ourselves and to our heritage
- ... Feeling passionate about what we do
- ... Telling a story about Istria

We are focused on the creation of wines from the Istrian indigenous grape varieties – Malvazia Istriana (white), Teran (red) and Muscat Momiano (white). We strongly believe that wine is an expression of the land. Hence, a great deal of attention is paid to understanding the characteristics of various positions, exploring the history of a certain parcel and planting vines in light of that knowledge.

Another part of our wine philosophy takes place in the cellar. Knowledge and technology play a respectable role however experience and remaining true to ourselves is a trait we strongly pursue. We produce modern wines by honouring our heritage, while our passion is best expressed in our single vineyard wines and special editions which are the winemaker's choice in the true sense of the word.
